HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULATIONS OF FYUGP

PROGRAMM EDURATION

- The Full-time, Regular UG programme for a regular student shall be for a period of four years with multiple entry and multiple exit options.
- The sessions shall commence from 1st of July.

ELIGIBILITY

- The selection for admission will be primarily based on availability of seats in the Major subject and marks imposed by the institution. Merit point for selection will be based on marks obtained in Major subject at Class 12 (or equivalent level) or the aggregate marks of Class 12 (or equivalent level) if Marks of the Major subject is not available. Reservation norms of The Government of Jharkhand must be followed as amended in times.
- UG Degree Programmes with Double Major shall be provided only to those students who secure a minimum of overall 75% marks (7.5 CGPA) or higher.
- Other eligibility criteria including those for multiple entry will be in light of the UGC Guidelines for Multiple Entry and Exit in Academic Programmes offered in Higher Education Institutions.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

- The reservation policy of the Government of Jharkhand shall apply in admission and the benefit of the same shall be given to the candidates belonging to the State of Jharkhand only. The candidates of other states in the reserved category shall be treated as General category candidates. Other relaxations or reservations shall be applicable as per the prevailing guidelines of the University for FYUGP.

VALIDITY OF REGISTRATION

- Validity of registration for FYUGP will be for maximum for Seven years from the date of registration.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

- An Academic Calendar will be prepared by the university to maintain uniformity in the CBCS of the UG Honours Programmes, UG Programmes, semesters and courses in the college run under the university (Constituent/Affiliated).
- Academic Year: Two consecutive (one odd + one even) semesters constitute one academic year.
- Semester: The Odd Semester is scheduled from July to December and the Even Semester from January to June. Each week has a minimum of 40 working hours spread over 6 days.
- Each semester will include – Admission, coursework, conduct of examination and declaration of results including semester break.
- In order to undergo 8 weeks' summer internship/apprenticeship during the summer camp, the Academic Calendar may be scheduled for academic activities as below:
 - a) Odd Semester: From first Monday of August to third Saturday of December
 - b) Even Semester: From first Monday of January to third Saturday of May
- An academic year comprising 180 working days in the least is divided into two semesters, each semester having at least 90 working days. With six working days in a week, this would mean that each semester will have $90/6 = 15$ teaching/ working weeks. Each working week will have 40 hours of instructional time.
- Each year the University shall draw out a calendar of academic and associated activities, which shall be strictly adhered to. The same is non-negotiable. Further, the Department will make all reasonable endeavors to deliver the programmes of study and other educational services as mentioned in its Information Brochureand website.However, circumstances maychangepromptingtheDepartment to reserve the right to change the content and delivery of courses, discontinue or combine courses and introduce or withdraw areas of specialization.

NUMBER OF CREDITS BY TYPE OF COURSE

The hallmark of the new curriculum framework is the flexibility for the students to learn courses of their choice across various branches of undergraduate programmes. This requires that all departments prescribe a certain specified number of credits for each course and common instruction hours (slot time).

AIMS OF BACHELOR'S DEGREE PROGRAMME IN SOCIOLOGY

The broad aims of the LOCF for Sociology are:

- (i) The Honours/Research program in Sociology is premised on an axiom that a graduate is not the mere product of a system. On the contrary, the graduate attributes are the most concrete manifestation of the spirit of the entire program, its operationalization through institutions and collective and concerted efforts of all stakeholders.
- (ii) Every other feature of the programme is fused into this. Hence graduate attributes, qualification descriptors and programme learning outcomes may not be described separately since they are innately interconnected.
- (iii) A Sociology graduate would be a person with a thorough grounding in the fundamental of Sociology and infused with the 'Sociological Imagination'. They can see the connections between biographies and history, personal problems and historical currents, pierce the seamless fabric of common sense that envelopes the everyday life of societies, draw connections between seemingly independent social factors, processes and institutions using observation and analysis.
- (iv) Being trained in a highly context-sensitive discipline, a Sociology graduate is alert to social, cultural and historical context of all issues. In the Indian context, that implies an ingrained post-colonial sensibility that critically engages constitutions of self and engagement with the other.
- (v) Sociology is a deeply self-reflexive discipline with an inter-disciplinary orientation. A graduate would be capable of describing and embodying the mandate and perspective of Sociology as a discipline, how it differs from cognate social sciences and be able to engage productively with them without losing disciplinary perspective.
- (vi) A Sociology graduate is exposed to a significant quantum of concepts, conceptual writing, theories and theoretical reasoning throughout the three years across all the courses. Hence she/he has an ability to grasp and generate a conceptual conversation in general and within the discipline of Sociology in particular.
- (vii) She/he is also familiar with well-defined, critical and evolving multiplicity of theoretical perspectives. A Sociology graduate would be well versed with the basic tenets of these perspectives and capable of generating versions of social world from these perspectives.
- (viii) Endowed with this awareness of multiple perspectives on any significant issue a Sociology graduate is able to reason it out and weigh the various operational options in any given context.
- (ix) Rigorous empirical investigation of the social being an inalienable aspect of graduate training, Sociology graduates are well trained to engage in research. They are familiar with the elementary techniques of social investigation via a thorough two semesters long training in sociological research methods.
- (x) A chief graduate attribute of Sociology students is a demonstrable ability to constitute a significant sociological problem to investigate, design research, choose appropriate techniques of social investigation, gather data from a scientifically determined sample, make sense of the data after due analysis, render the results in appropriate conceptual context and draw viable theoretical conclusions. Sociology graduates are an embodiment of highly desirable combination of keen observation, deep empathy, rigorous reason, hardnosed empiricism and scholarly detachment.
- (xi) They have abilities to read diverse kinds of material ranging from statistics, theoretical tracts, official reports, research reports, visual material, imaginative literature, cultural artefacts and social gestures and synthesize and generalize from them to draw viable conclusions. They are keenly aware of social context of knowledge production itself.

PROGRAMLEARNINGOUTCOMES

The broad programme learning outcomes in Sociology are:

- (i) Substantively, Sociology graduates possess specialized knowledge of a range of social institutions and processes. Through courses on Indian society, polity, economy, religion, kinship and family, gender and social stratification they have a fine grasp of social structures, processes, institutions, cultural diversities and dynamics of social change alongwith attendant conceptual tool- kit of the discipline.
- (ii) The courses around these themes are reconstructed inter-textually and indexed to the courses on theories and methods. Hence a key graduate attribute in terms of disciplinary knowledge is an ability to access substantive stock of existing research on these areas of sociological knowledge and invoke it strategically to draw conclusions, throw light on emerging issues, and generate insights and research agendas.
- (iii) Sociology graduates are instinctually comparative across and within the cultures. They are trained to spot social patterns and trends and seek causation at the level of social and cultural collectives to explain the observed social regularities. They are averse to attaching undue causal weight to individual subjective understandings and are resistant to unfounded ethnocentric assumptions.
- (iv) They can seamlessly redefine and reconstitute a range of social issues at multiple scales from diverse perspectives simultaneously to produce optimal solutions. Most students find this new found ability not only transformative but almost therapeutic.
- (v) A Sociology graduate is likely to have a specialized understanding of sociological conversations around Sociology of Gender; Social Stratification; Urban Sociology; Agrarian Sociology; Environmental Sociology; Sociology of Work and Industry; Health and Medicine; Visual Cultures; Indian Sociological Traditions and Reading Ethnographic Monographs.
- (vi) Sociology is both precise and evocative in the representation of the results of its scholarly labours. It is also keenly aware of its role in educating the public and dispelling common misconceptions and prejudices.
- (vii) Hence good communication skills are imperative for a Sociology graduate. Sociological communication takes three principal forms: oral, written and visual.
- (viii) Sociology is a worldly science that incessantly draws students beyond classrooms and harnesses the productive tension between library work, field work and a call to interventionist action.
- (ix) A Sociology graduate is ideal for employment needs where a graduate from liberal arts would fit in for this rare blend. They are a perfect fit for the areas (but not limited to them alone) such as law, development studies, development practice, social work, bureaucracy and public institutions, women's studies, gender studies, area studies, international relations, policy studies, policy implementation, advocacy, management, marketing, social psychology, industrial organization, election studies, data sciences, journalism, criminology, and careers in fine and performing arts.
- (x) Sociology is both a profession and a vocation. A lifelong commitment to learning, critical thinking and to the cause of the collective well-being rather than narcissistic self-indulgence.
- (xi) It is a cosmopolitan science that is positive and normative at once. A Sociology graduate would make an enlightened leader and an informed follower.

The chief attribute of a Sociology graduate is that she/he is well prepared in discharging her/his responsibilities as a conscious citizen while having a productive career and leading a meaningful life.

II. SKILLENHANCEMENTCOURSE-SEC1: READING,WRITINGANDREASONINGFORSOCIOLOGY

Marks:75(ESE:3Hrs)=75

PassMarks:Th(ESE)=30

(Credits:Theory-03)Theory:45Lectures

CourseObjective:1. Reading:

- (a) At the end of the course, students will be equipped to move from reading rudimentarily to advanced reading of texts extensively
- (b) Read academic texts and identify the central argument(s) and grasp the content of the texts
- (c) Read texts to identify the organization of ideas, structure of the arguments, style and tone of the author and author biases
- (d) Identify general conclusions from specific details in texts

2. Writing:

- (a) Identify standard elements of writing and different genres of writing from personal essay to academic writing.
- (b) Be equipped to express in different genres of writings such as summaries, critical reviews and essays, using:
Multi-draft approach: pre-writing, outlining, drafting, revising, and editing. Formal academic style. Information from several sources and synthesizing into their own writing. Internationally accepted methods of citation and referencing
- (c) Be able to treat reading and writing as complementary and synergistic
- (d) Be able to conceptualize and plan a research paper

3. Reasoning:

- (a) Students should be able to approach writing as a form of reasoning, with specific organization of ideas, style and perspective
- (b) Be able to develop critical thinking through reflecting on various texts consciously and not take anything for granted in the analyses of the social world
- (c) Be able to develop scientific reasoning by reading texts for consistency and logic
- (d) As multicultural classrooms, students should be able to relate specific experiences with specific groups and generate multi-cultural competence in understanding social issues. By reading texts from cross-cultural contexts, students will be able to approach a creative synthesis in the classroom and grasp the various ways of sociological reasoning.

CourseContents1. Introduction: The virtues of repetition [Week 1]

Academic reading and writing is really all about re-reading and rewriting – about repeatedly reworking a text until some provisional goal is achieved.

Assignment, Day 1: Read a short (1-2 page) academic text of moderate difficulty and summarize it in one paragraph (3-4 sentences). (This is without prior guidance by the instructor).

Assignment, Day 2: Re-read the same text and re-write the summary after a brief discussion of ‘CONTENT’ (does the summary contain most of the most important points made in the text?)

Assignment, Day 3: Re-read the same text and re-write the summary again after a brief discussion of ‘FORM’ (is the summary well structured, clear and effective?)

2. Techniques for reading academic texts [Weeks 2–4]2.1 Grasping the whole: How to get an overview

Titles as the shortest summary of a text

Good and bad titles

Section headings (where present)

Introductions and Conclusions

Identifying important passages and sentences

Divide and conquer: Taking texts apart

Beginning, middle and conclusion – stages of argument

The architecture of arguments: main, subsidiary, minor

Everything is not equally important: Distribution of emphasis

Getting outside help: Recruiting extra resources

Isolating words & terms: Dictionaries, Encyclopedias

Contextualising texts with quick background research

Productive ways of asking for help from teachers/tutors

Theabilitytojudgeandevaluateisacrucialskill,particularlywhenappliedtooneself.Students will practiceevaluatingeach other’s workthroughoutthe semester, but thelast week can be formalized and stepped up into a more elaborate exercise.

Assignment, Day 1: The whole class does an individualized, two-part composite reading and writing exercise designed bytheinstructor based on semester longexperienceof student abilitiesandinterests.

Assignment, Day 2: The reading part of the individual assignment is randomly distributed for students to evaluate and comment on their colleagues’ work. The instructor moderates discussion of strengths and weaknesses, highlighting techniques for recognizing quality (or its lack).

Assignment, Day 3: The writing part of the assignment is similarly distributed and evaluated through interactive, moderated discussion.

SuggestedAssignments:

- a) Conduct a structured interview with close ended options and are relatively unstructured interview on the same topic (of your choice) with similar sets of people. Observe and note the differences.
- b) Look at NSS/NFHS/Census Data and write notes on the themes of how you can interpret the data.
- c) Look at a set of published letters of Gandhi, Nehru, C.F. Andrews, Tagore etc. and identify key social issues that are discussed in the contents of the letters.
- d) Collect 3 oral testimonies/life histories of people who have witnessed and experienced any traumatic event in their lives.

3. DataAnalysis(Weeks6-7)

(Students will be introduced to the use of Statistical Software Packages)

SuggestedAssignments/Exercise:

- a) Choose a theme of your interest - for e.g., crime, technology, environmental concerns or any other and look through the Sunday editorials of any national daily of the last 3 months to locate related articles.
- b) Do a content analysis of advertisements of anyone consumer product/service, which have appeared over one year in a leading national daily.
- c) Analyse the oral testimonies you have collected in Exercise 2(d). Discuss the issues and challenges in using testimony as evidence.
- d) Students will be provided with datasets to run them in a software program.

4. Framing a Research Question(Week8)

Choose a research question, identify statement(s), hypothesis and concepts.

Operationalize concepts and match them with methods and tools for data collection.

SEMESTER III

I. MAJOR COURSE-MJ4:
INDIAN SOCIETY-I

Marks: 25 (5 Attd. + 20 SIE: 1 Hr) + 75 (ESE: 3 Hrs) = 100	Pass Marks: Th(SIE+ESE)= 40

(Credits: Theory-04) Theory: 60 Lectures

Course Objective:

1. Understanding key concepts and institutions of Indian society.
2. To understand the modes of knowledge—construction of Indian history, society, Culture and politics
3. To examine how multiple social processes, forces and ideologies shaped the terrain of the nation.

Course Learning Outcome:

1. Through informed interrogation of concepts and institutions of India, the course contributes to the development of critical and analytical thinking. The course, supported by an inter-disciplinary approach, facilitates learning and reflecting about the multiple – and contextual – socio-cultural registers of Indian society.
2. The course adds to the sociological interpretation of Indian history and society. The India-specific themes of the course – discourse/knowledge-making, mobilization, transformation, ideology, identity and politics, for example – are treated, moreover, by drawing from sociological concepts and theories. The course connects the practical and conceptual in terms of both substance and relevance.
3. The adoption of an inter-disciplinary framework, without losing sight of the sociological, makes the course wider in scope and scale. It broadens viewpoints and encourages studentsto reflect deeply on the multicultural reality which is the defining feature of India. Use of innovative teaching-learning methods, the course prepares students to successfully compete in global academia.

Course Content:

URBANSOCIOLOGY

Marks:25(5Attd. +20SIE:1Hr)+75 (ESE:3Hrs) =100	PassMarks:Th(SIE+ESE)= 40

(Credits: Theory-04) Theory:60Lectures

CourseObjective:

1. Urbanisation is an important aspect of modern society. This course will provide an exposure to key theoretical perspectives for understanding urban phenomena in historical and contemporary contexts.
2. It also reflects on vital concerns of urban living while narrating the subjective experiences of urban communities. With case studies from India and this course will help students understand and relate to the complexities of urban living.
3. The course seeks to evolve critical thinking and develop a policy perspective on the urban.

CourseLearningOutcomes:

1. To appreciate the significance of the city and the process of urbanisation and its consequences across the globe, through cross disciplinary texts and ethnographic studies.
2. To understand the urban in the historical as well as modern contexts - the idea of urbanism and urban space and the intersections in these of institutions, processes and identities. This is to be achieved by exposing students to critical theoretical debates which help them to gain a deeper understanding of city life and urban environment which can also help them understand their own social environment better.
3. To learn about key urban processes such as migration, displacement and urban slums, as well as critical contemporary issues such as resettlement and rehabilitation and also engage in issues of public policy, urban transformation and change. Knowledge of such themes will help students pursue further studies in academic areas such as development and also engage in research on public policy, urban transformation and change.
4. To develop critical thinking and a reflective perspective through exposure to multicultural thought; to enhance disciplinary knowledge, research-related skills and develop a problem-solving competence.

II. MAJOR COURSE-MJ13:
MODERN SOCIOLOGICAL THOUGHT

Marks:25(5Attd.+20SIE:1Hr)+75 (ESE:3Hrs)=100

Pass Marks: Th(SIE+ESE)= 40

(Credits: Theory-04) Theory: 60 Lectures

Course Objectives:

1. Objective of teaching Sociological Thinkers to undergraduate students is to enable them to apply theory to their own everyday life experiences.
2. It is requiring that students develop their sociological imagination and the capacity to read each situation sociologically and then to think about it theoretically.
3. To this end, it is imperative that sociological theory courses demonstrate the applicability of theory to students.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. Understanding the characteristics and dynamics of the social world, and how post-classical sociologists attempt to understand the social world.
2. Appreciating the relevance and limits of the contemporary theories or theoretical approaches to make sense of social reality.
3. Understanding the basic methodological approaches of the thinkers, through some original texts and their role in building sociological knowledge.

III. MAJOR COURSE-MJ14: SOCIALMOVEMENTS

Marks:25(5Attd. +20SIE:1Hr)+75 (ESE:3Hrs) =100

PassMarks:Th(SIE+ESE)= 40

(Credits:Theory-04)Theory:60Lectures

CourseObjective:

1. This course is designed to equip students with diverse disciplinary trainings to understand the conceptual, theoretical and methodological issues involved in the study of social movements, as well as the historical and descriptive analyses of collective action. It also draws attention to an important aspect of the analysis of social movements: their articulation with states, societies and cultures.
2. Through case studies drawn from comparative contexts, this course demonstrates the vital connectedness between collective action in social movements and other forms of institutional and cultural contexts. Particular case studies will be used as illustrations to understand more general patterns of social movements.
3. The course will also equip students to visualize the transition from traditional to contemporary social movements. The course envisages that studying social movements would ultimately foster an understanding of the dynamics of power, justice and human agency in transforming societies and cultures. To that extent it is a course that has a universal relevance and appeal.

CourseLearningOutcomes:

1. At the end of the course, students should be able to distinguish the central principles of different theoretical perspectives in the sociology of social movements and relate them to specific historical and empirical contexts.
2. Learn to use sociological theories on social movements to identify a phenomenon as one. Further, students should be able to distinguish a phenomenon as social movement from other cognate political phenomena.
3. Understand the dynamics and motivations of individuals and groups participating in social movements and identify reasons for success (or failure) of social movements.

(Credits: Theory-04) Theory:60 Lectures

Course Objectives:

On completion of this course, the students will be able to understand

1. This course situates crime in relation to a wide variety of social forces and institutions including neighborhoods, schools, the media, gender, and criminal justice.
2. Drawing upon criminological theory, students will deepen their understanding of how some of these institutions and forces contribute to crime.
3. Student will also examine crime and reactions to crime as part of the fabric of social and institutional life within contemporary Indian society.
4. In addition to these substantive considerations, they will also critically examine the links between theories and research designs and methods.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. Acquire a broad understanding of the theoretical and empirical approaches taken to understand the relationship between criminal behavior and social, cultural, and institutional forces.
2. Learn about the current state of knowledge regarding social variation in crime and reactions to crime and the social consequences of this variation.
3. Critically analyze the conceptual and empirical underpinning of crime and society.

SEMESTER VII

I. MAJOR COURSE-MJ16:
RESEARCH METHODS AND STATISTICS

Marks:25(5Attd. +20SIE:1Hr)+75 (ESE:3Hrs) =100	PassMarks:Th(SIE+ESE)= 40
--	---------------------------

(Credits: Theory-04) Theory:60Lectures

Course Objectives:

1. The course provides an introductory, yet comprehensive engagement with social research.
2. Through theoretical and practical knowledge students are acquainted with the different stages of the research process like creation of research design, methods of data collection and analysis.
3. The imparted knowledge and training will enable students to develop a sound understanding of both quantitative and qualitative research.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. Students are introduced to the concept of conducting research, which is inclusive of formulating research designs, methods and analysis of data. Some knowledge of elementary statistics is also provided to the students to acquaint them with quantification of data.
2. The thrust of the course is on empirical reasoning, understanding and analysis of social reality, which is integral to the concepts of quantitative research. Students learn to differentiate between qualitative and quantitative aspects of research in terms of collection and subsequent analysis of data.
3. Through the competing theoretical perspectives and methodologies, students are able to understand that social reality is multi-faceted, heterogeneous and dynamic in nature.
4. By imparting the knowledge of theory and praxis of research, students are prepared to arrive at a critical understanding of the course. It also equips them with necessary skills for employment in any social research organisation.

SOCIAL CHANGE AND DEVELOPMENT

Marks:25(5Attd. +20SIE:1Hr)+75 (ESE:3Hrs) =100	Pass Marks: Th(SIE+ESE)= 40

(Credits: Theory-04) Theory: 60 Lectures

Course Objectives:

1. This course invites students to explore issues relating to development, one of the key ideas, concepts, and animating forces of our societies and lives. It offers sociological modesty to investigate the bewildering, often contradictory, ways in which development comes to mean a promise or desire, an inevitable consequence or persuasive project, and how it is closely connected to notions of progress and modernity.
2. It introduces students from various disciplines to the scholarship on development from a sociological vantage point. It aims to familiarise students with ideas, theories, and practices of development. The course also acquaints them with the trajectory of development in post-colonial India.
3. Drawing from disciplines such as sociology, anthropology, economics, political studies, and development studies, it shall help students analyse different approaches to, and practices and experiences of, development. With its emphasis on the role and interplay of institutions, apparatus, policies, practices, and social relations, this course shall also aid in the critical analysis of development's diverse manifestations across locations and moments.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. Understand different ideas of, and approaches to, development.
2. Explain the dynamics between developmental institutions, actors, policies, theories, approaches, and ideas and the implementation, consequences, and experiences of development.
3. Critically analyse the key features of developmental processes in post-colonial India.
4. Undertake a sociological examination of developmental practices in different locations, moments, and fields, and to interpret different outcomes and experiences of development.
